EVENING HIGH SCHOOL HAS GRADUATING EXERCISES

Americanization Certificates Presented to 268 by Joseph J. Bevins. Class Gives Play.

Mrs. Stanger Pleases Audience with Reading

Mrs. Millicent Stanger delighted the large audience which attended the "afternoon" sponsored by the Samaritan Society of the Universalist church, Wednesday afternoon in the Parish House. Her reading of the three-act play, "Kitty MacKay," was beautifully done. The pleasure of the afternoon was increased by the songs of Mrs. D. Ernest Belcher of Chelsea, rendered before the reading and between the acts.

Following the program a delicious tea was served in the ladies' parlor where Mrs. Rubens Rea Hadley and Mrs. Charles F. Patterson presided over tables charmingly decorated with spring flowers.

Mrs. Albert Hitchens acted as general chairman of the afternoon. Mrs. Wallace Powers was in charge of the program and gracefully introduced the performers. Mrs. Edward L. Shinn, who headed the tea committee, was assisted by Mrs. A. J. Bicknell, Mrs. Ernest Davis and Mrs. Marion Peirce.

MANY PRIZES GIVEN AT LEGION BAND PENNY SALE

On Wednesday evening another successful Penny Sale was held by the Arlington Legion Post 39 Band, at the Old Town Hall. The band, which shows a great deal of talent, played a number of selections under the direction of A. Cannatta. Moving pictures were also enjoyed. Valuable prizes were awarded, including door awards and an electric clock, which was won by Harold Fader. The evening was in charge of George Grimes. The band will play for the first time in public on April 19. The proceeds of the sale will aid considerably in swelling the band's treasury.

TRUCK COASTS DOWN STREET INTO HOUSE

The police received word from Mrs. Mary E. Coughlin, 106 Alpine street, shortly before one o'clock, yesterday morning, that a truck had just run into the side of her house. Officers Curran and Ryan investigated and learned that the offending truck was owned by Andrew White, 93 Alpine street and had coasted down the street from where it was parked.

Arlington Men's Club Has 25th Anniversary

The Arlington Men's Club observed its twenty-fifth anniversary Wednesday evening at the Orthodox Congregational church, with a Charter Members' Night. At the head table, over which the president, Marcus J. Gray, presided, were the other officers—Dr. F. P. Hawkes, vice-president; Harrison L. Evans, treasurer; and Charles E. Dockrill, secretary—and the charter members who were able to be present. They were William A. Muller, the first treasurer of the organization; Frederick B. Thompson, its first secretary; Clarence A. Moore, Edward N. Lacey, Willard G. Riffe, Loren W. Marsh and Benjamin R. Cleary.

Each one was asked to speak. In their replies tribute was paid to the Rev. S. C. Bushnell, former pastor of the church, who was the founder of the club, which had at first been intended for members of the church, but had been extended to include men of all denominations.

Dr. Hawkes made an appeal for the Visiting Nursing Association and for the George Washington Memorial Community Tree. As a result of the latter appeal the box, decorated with a tree, which had been made by Mrs. Herbert Stephens to receive tree contributions, was found at the end of the evening to contain $2.93.

Other business included the appointment of a nominating committee composed of Roger W. Homer, chairman; James O. Holt, William A. Muller, Bernard G. Teel and Marcus R. Sorenson.

After the tables had been cleared away, Frank Lane, "The World's most versatile entertainer," gave an exhibition of magic, played the piano and told stories. This part of the evening was enjoyed not only by the members but by their families.

Dr. Robinson was born in Hartford, Me., was graduated from Harvard in 1882. For many years he was a professor of theology in the Philadelphia Divinity School. He was Custodian of the Book of Common Prayer of the Protestant Episcopal church and was a member of the Prayerbook Commission under whose supervision the recent changes in the prayerbook were made.

Funeral services and burial will be in East Sumner, Me.

The grand venerable of Massachusetts, Vincent Brogna, was a guest of the afternoon. He delivered an address.

TOWN BOARDS ORGANIZE FOR COMING YEAR

Mr. Lombard Begins 15th Year as Board of Health Chairman.

The work of organizing the various town boards for the coming year is practically completed. The Board of Selectmen on Monday evening followed their custom of choosing as chairman the senior member of the board; William O. Hauser. They had little other business to transact. The zoning law was waived to permit the erection of a garage four feet from the street at 460 Mystic street, on account of the high bank there.

The Board of Health held a special meeting for organization on March 11th, at which it re-elected Alfred W. Lombard chairman for the ensuing year. Mr. Lombard has been a member for the past sixteen years, having been appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Dr. Laurence L. Peirce. He is entering upon his fifteenth consecutive year as chairman.

Clarence A. Moore, the senior member, succeeds Earl A. Ryder as chairman of the Board of Assessors.

Alice Murray and David Yates Speaking Contest Winners

The third annual Speaking Contest conducted among the employees of the Arlington, Lexington, and Woburn Gas Companies, was held in the auditorium of the Gas Company building on Broadway on Wednesday evening, March 9, and Friday evening, March 11. Judges were Franklin P. Hawkes, Principal of the Arlington Junior High West; Harold B. Converse, Supervisor of Employee and Public Relations for C. H. Tenney & Company; and Harold B. Wood of the Arlington Advocate. George B. Langton, superintendent of the Service Department, presided as chairman. The subject was, "The Gas Industry As An Economic and Social Factor in America."

The speeches showed the results of careful preparation and the originality displayed in the presentation of ideas and the impressive manner of delivery was excellent. There were five entrants in the women's division and fifteen in the men's division. All of the speeches were of such a high grade that the judges had much difficulty in selecting the winners.

In the women's division the prize winners were: Alice R. Murray, first; Florence E. Merrigan, second; and Gertrude R. Savage, third. The prize winners in the men's division were: David B. Yates, first; Cornelius F. Collins, second; Braxton D. Fisher, third; and Joseph P. Greeley, fourth.

In addition to those mentioned above, the other participants in the contest were: Helen Brownell, Ruth G. Dawes, Philip W. Alsen, Bertram E. Cass, Cornelius J. Connell, Charles F. Crosby, Daniel C. Foley, Oscar J. Fosberg, Harold Leland, George W. Masterson, Albert K. Peirce, Herbert A. Teel, and Robert K. Wallace.

Herbert A. Teel, though not a prize winner, gave a talk that brought forth much merit from the audience. He did not take the subject seriously and in his inimitable manner delivered a speech that was far more amusing than any vaudeville act.

Manager Robert H. Patterson commended the contestants for their initiative and for the hard work and research necessary to the preparation of such fine papers as were presented by each entrant.

The committee in charge of arrangements were E. J. Walker, E. C. Bryant and Miss Margaret Murray of Arlington, and Miss Ann Krougust of the Woburn office.

Master Gordon Bowen of 5 Revere street has been elected secretary of the Boys' Junior Choir of the First Baptist Church. The choir is to sing at the Palm Sunday services.

C. D. of A. Has Whist For Children's Camp

One hundred and ten tables were filled with bridge and whist players at the party given in Robbins Memorial Town Hall Wednesday evening by Court St. Agnes, C. D. of A., for the benefit of the charity fund. The special purpose for which the proceeds will be used is to pay the expenses of two children at the Middlesex Health Camp next summer, but it will also help to swell the badly depleted fund.

There were quantities of beautiful prizes, among them two electric clocks and a mahogany top drum table. There were so many that there were two prizes for each of the tables of whist and one for each bridge table. The high scorers were given first choice. Mrs. Nellie A. Crowley headed the committee of fifty-three, which was responsible for the success of the evening.

At the meeting of the Court in G. A. R. Hall Monday evening, Miss Mary Hoisington told about the Health Camp and showed pictures of it. The members were especially interested as they have sent two children to the camp every summer since it started except the first, when they sent one child.

LOW MARKS IN SCHOOL CAUSE GIRL TO RUN AWAY

Because she had received low marks in school, Bernice Harvey, the thirteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Harvey of 47 Wright street, walked to Lowell last Thursday morning instead of going to school. When she did not come home her parents, alarmed, reported her disappearance to the police. Early Friday morning they received a call from Lowell, saying that she was there. Her father drove to Lowell and reported at 5:40 a. m. that she was safe at home. She said at first that a man in a Packard had picked her up, but finally confessed that she had walked.

R. D. LEND-A-HAND DANCE NETS CHARITY ABOUT $270

The dance which the R. D. Lend-A-Hand gave in Robbins Memorial Town Hall last Friday evening was such a pronounced success that the organization sincerely hopes to make it an annual affair. Mrs. David R. Kennedy, chairman of the committee, estimates that the amount to be turned over to charity will be about $270.00.

But to even a casual observer on the night of the party, it was obviously a financial success. Practically everyone was there, and without exception those present seemed to be having a marvelous time. Roy Lamson's Royal Harvards supplied their usual sizzling brand of dance music. The fellow who plays two trumpets at the same time commanded perhaps more than his usual measure of enthusiastic applause.

The hall was beautifully decorated. The stage was dressed as for a play with an exterior set. The orchestra was ensconced behind a balustrade. Not a few of the items of the social decorations found their way into the button holes of the male guests during the course of the evening.

Assisting Mrs. Kennedy on the committee were Mrs. Ray Manger, Mrs. Wyman Smart, Mrs. R. C. Clifford, Jr., Mrs. Roger Tenney, Mrs. Hosmer Johnson, Mrs. Kennedy McCormick, Mrs. Gleason, Mrs. Allan Kimball and Mrs. Francis Chamberlain.

MRS. WALZ OPENS HOME FOR MUSICALE AND TEA

Mrs. Adolph Walz opened her home on School street, Belmont, Wednesday afternoon for a musicale and tea for the benefit of Mrs. Woodward's Group of the Bradshaw Friendly Union. The musical program was given by Mrs. Walz at the piano and Mrs. Frank Carlson, contralto soloist. Tea, sandwiches and cakes were served with Mrs. Hess and Mrs. Henry Guernsey pouring. The house was lavishly with spring flowers.

Somerville Refuses Elevated Bus Permit

At their last week's meeting, the Somerville aldermen voted to grant the Boston Elevated "leave to withdraw" its petition to be granted a permit to run buses through Somerville as a part of the proposed line from Arlington Centre to Lechmere Square. A special hearing was held Monday evening, at which Mayor John F. Burke of Medford told the aldermen he was cooperating with their mayor in his efforts to improve conditions on the shores of the Mystic river in Somerville and asked reciprocity by the granting of the permit for the bus line which the Medford citizens want. No further action was taken.

MISS LENA LENK MANAGE BRIDGE FOR PROFESSIONAL WOMEN

Miss Lena Lenk and Miss Alice Grayce Lenk were in charge of a bridge party of twenty-five tables which was given at the Hotel Statler Tuesday under the auspices of the Professional Woman's Club, of which they are active members. A goodly sum was realized for the charity fund of the club.

ASKS MORE PLEDGES FOR UNEMPLOYMENT FUND

Rev. John Nicol Mark, chairman of the Social Service Unemployment Fund, is urging more pledges for monthly contributions. About $400 has been received in these monthly pledges and $2,000 is needed. Both the Welfare Council and the Town Welfare Department report that there is no diminution of need.

SURPRISE MR. NORCROSS ON HIS 70th BIRTHDAY

Rev. James E. Norcross, pastor emeritus of Trinity Baptist church, was given a surprise party by his former parishioners at his home, 101 Standish road, Watertown, on Tuesday evening, from eight to ten, the occasion being his seventieth birthday.

Rev. and Mrs. Norcross very graciously received over seventy-five of their friends at this time. Many flowers that were brought as gifts decorated the home and Mr. Norcross received one hundred cards and telegrams during the day and a sunshine box containing gifts. A birthday cake occupied a conspicuous place in the dining room. Refreshments were served during the evening.

NEIGHBORS ENTERTAIN ARLINGTON GRANGE MEMBERS

Arlington Grange, No. 376, P. of H., held its regular meeting Wednesday evening in G. A. R. Hall. Neighbors' Night was observed with visiting granges from Allston, Cambridge and Everett. After the meeting the grangers' hour was turned over to the visiting granges, each of which furnished a twenty minute program, which were greatly enjoyed. Over 95 grangers were present. Delicious refreshments were served in the banquet hall by a committee chairmaned by Mrs. Burton. The next meeting will be held April 6, at 7:30 in charge of Dr. Edna Easter and will be for the benefit of Community Service.

POLICE RECOVER STOLEN SEDAN AFTER HARD CHASE

After a hard chase, police officers recovered a Plymouth sedan stolen in Brookline Sunday night. The four thieves abandoned the car near Jerry's pit in North Cambridge and, running through the swamp there, disappeared.

Officer Riley first saw the car on Mystic street. Unable to stop it, he called headquarters and the flash light notified Officer Thomas White on Massachusetts avenue to be on the lookout. Officer White gave chase but failed to catch it. Then Sgt. Sullivan and Officer Burns in the radio cruising car received the message and took up the chase in East Arlington. Officer Burns fired two shots into the air in an attempt to stop the speeders.

MISS WALLACE ENTERTAINS FRIENDS AT BRIDGE PARTY

Miss Helen Wallace entertained twelve of her girl friends at a bridge party at her home, 48 Melrose street, last Tuesday evening. Those attending the party were: Barbara Hastings, Evelyn Bennett, Marjorie Baker, Collette Galligan, Ruth Hewins, Ruth Simmons, Edna Cundance, Carolyn MacNeill, Barbara Cathcart, Ruth Wallace, and Alice Wallace. The first prize, a china boudoir lamp, was won by Ruth Simmons and the second prize, a doggy pillow, by Alice Wallace. The serving of delicious refreshments brought the pleasant evening to a close.

The Finance Committee, in its report which is being distributed to the Town Meeting members at the present meetings which precede the annual Town Meeting, has estimated the 1932 tax rate at $30.67. This is based on a sixty million dollar valuation, which is three million less than last year's.

The recommendations total $2,052,371.11. To this must be added $24,300 appropriated at the January special Town Meeting, and the $17,223.86, appropriated this week. This makes the town expenses for the year $2,093,894.97. To this must be added state and county requirements of $295,000 and an overlay of $20,000, both of which the town must pay, bringing the year's expenses to $2,418,894.97.

From this are deducted the estimated receipts—Income tax, $184,000; corporation and bank tax, $22,500; town departments, $153,000; motor excise tax, $84,000; water receipts, $175,000, totaling $618,500—and the free cash, water surplus, $15,000; poll tax, $20,000, and transfers, $18,000, totaling $53,000. This leaves the amount to be raised by taxation, $1,840,394.97.

No Streets Recommended

The economy which has been exercised in the recommendation of appropriations is shown by the fact that not a single street was recommended for acceptance. Those included in the warrant were Bailey road from Massachusetts avenue to Gloucester street, Brooks avenue from Lake street to Varnum street, Edmund road from Forest street to 150 feet east of Peter Tufts road, Egerton road from Herbert road to Brooks avenue, Glen avenue from Mystic street to Emerson road, Gloucester street from Bailey road to Churchill avenue, Margaret street from Lake street to Edith street, Melrose street from Herbert road to Brooks avenue, Milton street from Herbert road to Brooks avenue, Peter Tufts road from Edmund road to Overlook road, Phillips street from Franklin street to Webster street, Quincy street from Benjamin road to Gray street, and Seltwater street from Gray street to Longfellow road.

Recommendations Outside the Budget

Appropriations recommended outside the budget include $3,000 for a police radio, $57,000 for sewerage extension, $445,000 for the extension of water mains, $10,000 for the extension of storm drains, $8,000 for permanent sidewalks and edgestones, $12,800 for equipment of new high school building, $3,907.20 for seats for high school auditorium, $27,000 for a four-story connecting passageway between the old and new high school buildings, $4,000 for grading and surfacing the Brackett School playground, $150 for exterior lines

—Rev. John Nicol Mark of the First Parish spoke this week before the Woman's Club, Norfolk, and the Teachers' Association of Middleboro.

DESCRIBES TO ALLIANCE UNION OF RURAL CHURCHES

Members of the First Parish Alliance heard an unusually interesting talk at the meeting which was held Monday afternoon in the church vestry. The speaker was Rev. Hilda Ives, head of the town and country department of the Massachusetts Federation of Churches, who was introduced by the president, Miss Esther Bailey. She described the work she has done in uniting into one, the three or four small churches that may be found in almost every country town.

This pooling of resources made it possible, she said, for the Community Church to get a good minister, a good religious education worker and a good choirmaster. The result has been a renewed enthusiasm for the church among those who had become discouraged because it seemed that the country churches always had poor ministers—only the old and the sick would serve them. It resulted, also, in a broadening of viewpoint. For the service, a little was taken from the service of each denomination represented. The people found that they could work and worship together. Indeed, Mrs. Ives characterized the members of the city churches as "stiff" Christians when compared with those of the country.

The musical program also was especially enjoyable. Mrs. Laura Herzig Kelly of Lexington played violin solos, accompanied by Mrs. Nelson Bowers. Mrs. Edith Carey Thomas sang solos. She was accompanied by Mrs. Edwin L. Allen. At the close of the program tea was served by the social committee, headed by Mrs. David Buttrick.

FIRST PARISH HOLDS ITS ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the First Parish was held on Tuesday evening with a large attendance. Judge James P. Parmenter was the moderator. The treasurer, Nelson I. Bowers, reported all bills paid and a balance in the treasury.

Ernest R. Moore, chairman of the Parish Committee, gave the parish report; Miss Esther Bailey reported for the Alliance; Miss Elizabeth Low, for the Gilt Club; Miss Margaret Bailey, for the Junior Alliance; Gage Bailey, for the church school; John Swensen, for the Laymen's League; and Mrs. Edward B. Schwamb, for the Evening Alliance. All of the reports showed progress.

Judge Parmenter spoke for the Bicentennial Celebration Committee. Twenty-one new members were voted into the parish, and will receive the right hand of fellowship on Easter Sunday.

A delicious supper was served at 6:30, with Mrs. Edwin Allen as chairman of the committee.

LECTURE AND LUNCHEON FOR HOMEOWNERS' CLUB

The Arlington Homemakers' Club, conducted by the Middlesex County Extension Service, held its monthly meeting last Monday in the Universalist Church.

The eleven members present enjoyed a very interesting talk by Mrs. McKeown. The subject was "The Attractive Table Promotes Good Food Habits." Mrs. McKeown, with the aid of Mrs. McLean, arranged the setting of a table with an attractive centerpiece of flowers and green candlesticks with pretty candles and thus demonstrated her subject.

After the talk and a general discussion, a luncheon was served, consisting of vegetable casserole, spiced prunes, nut and graham bread and coffee. This was prepared by some of the members in advance. Mrs. Bowers also made some of her delicious oatmeal cookies. The next meeting will be held April 11, when the subject will be, "Playing with our Children."

BRIG-GEN. JAS. H. SMYTH JOINS SPANISH WAR CAMP

At the meeting of Corp. Wm. Power Kenibbs Camp No. 66, U. S. W. V., held March 14, James H. Smyth, Brig-Gen., M.N.G., and former inspector of the Massachusetts National Guard, was obligated as a member by transfer. At this meeting the camp voted to entertain Vicinity Council No. 1 on the second Sunday in June, the April Council meeting being in Whitthrop and the May meeting at Stoneham. The camp voted to make a donation to the Soldiers' Home and Hospital Committee for the Department of Massachusetts, which committee looks after the interests of all disabled comrades in the Soldiers' Home and Hospitals of this Commonwealth.

At the camp meeting Rex G. Post, president of Vicinity Council No. 1, and Past Commander Hector Beaton of Camp 12 were guests of the camp.

Next Monday night the Auxiliary of the camp will have a social at the camp quarters, Menotomy Hall, and entertain the camp members, and every camp member is invited to be present.

The camp would welcome applications from Spanish War veterans living in Arlington or the immediate vicinity.

MR. LUFKIN COMPLETES FORTY YEARS SERVICE

On Sunday Joseph G. Lufkin of 15a Jason street completed forty years' service with the National Meter Company, having been for half this time manager of the New England Branch. In observance of the event there was a gathering of his co-workers of the Boston and New York offices and of the family.

At this time there was presented to Mr. Lufkin a friendship calendar containing cards of greeting representing more than four hundred friends, most of them in the water works trade. The collection of these cards, which recall the many friendships made by Mr. Lufkin during his years of service, was begun six months ago. So well was the secret kept, in spite of the large number interested in it, that the gift came as a complete surprise. The cards are bound in beautiful brass end plates, which were designed by Mr. Lufkin's youngest son.

SOMERVILLE DRUG STORE SERVES ARLINGTON WATER

A rather unusual sign appears in one of the larger drug stores on Winter Hill, Somerville, of which Arlington has great reason to be proud. The sign reads "We Serve Arlington Water." Somerville has been having a great deal of trouble with a weed which is growing in their water and which makes it taste, as one person said, "like fish chowder without the potato."

W. C. T. U. SENDS PETITIONS TO REPRESENTATIVES

A number of signed petitions were received at the March meeting of the Arlington W. C. T. U., held at the home of Mrs. Andrew Esdalle, 25 Newport street. These petitions, urging that the Senators and Representatives for Massachusetts use their influence and cast their votes in support of the prohibition law, and its enforcement, were sent to the Congressional Record.

A sum of five dollars was voted as a subscription to the Flower Mission, 14 Ashburton place, Boston. Hundreds of lonely sufferers are cheered and helped by the assistance of many members of the W. C. T. U. filling baskets with flowers, eggs, fruit and simple delicacies, Easter being an especially appropriate time for these gifts.

Reports of the convention at the Hotel Statler were read. Special mention was made of the Middlesex, Essex, Norfolk and Suffolk Counties W. C. T. U. HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

A Senior Class meeting was held Thursday, after school. Much important business was discussed. Both Mr. Gammons and the class president, Elmer Ziegler, stated that 250 seniors would have to subscribe to the year book if the class wished to have one this year.

Ruth Rowland, Chairman of the yearbook committee, made a report. She stated that the committee has decided to give the ring contract to J. Rich and O'Neill of Cambridge this year.

The first period classes in Biology and Chemistry enjoyed slides on microscopic germs Thursday morning.

Tuesday, March 15, a meeting of the Science Club was held. John A. Aston, vice-president, presided. An unusually entertaining program on radio was presented by Robert Edwards and Hugh Lynch. The boys tried to work an outside station in Arlington Heights. While Robert Edwards was trying for stations, Hugh Lynch told the club about the workings of their set, the other amateur stations in the country, and the manner of applying for a license. The boys were finally successful in receiving a jumble of letters in code. Several stations were received, two of which were thought to be foreign ones, one Rome and the other possibly a French one. The boys' station is WDKL.

A science lecture was held Friday, Saturday, and Sunday at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The subject, "Electrons at Work in Pure and Applied Science," was treated by Wayne B. Nottingham. Many High School students attended.

The Student Council met after school, Wednesday. The council voted on changing the school hours back to the original—8:00 a. m. to 1:00 p. m. period. The other matter voted on was to allow the pupils to put paid advertisements in the school paper.

Classes in practice college boards have commenced. They meet after school once a week for two hours. This work is excellent practice in preparation for the college boards taken in June.

MARRIAGES

LYNCH—WALLACE

On Monday, at Saint Paul's Cathedral, Boston, Miss Mildred Perkins Wallace, daughter of Edward Wallace of Portland, Maine, became the bride of David Ralph Lynch, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Lynch of 44 Mystic street, Arlington.

Because of the recent death of the bride's mother, only the immediate families witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Mr. Maynard, assistant rector. The single ring service was used. The bride wore black trimmed with powder blue and carried gardenias. Her sister, Mrs. Gladys Wallace Brown, attended as matron of honor. She wore black and white crepe and also carried gardenias. Calvin Ross Lynch, brother of the groom, was best man.

The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast at the Hotel Princeton, Commonwealth avenue, Boston.

After a wedding trip the young couple will make their home at 16 School street, Rockport.

The bride before her marriage was employed in the Liberty Mutual Insurance Company of Boston. The groom is a graduate of the Arlington High School, '18, and a member of Hiram Lodge of Masons, and also the Gloucester Lions' Club. He is manager of the Gloucester Service and Sales Corporation in Gloucester.

SPORTS TIPS

Although the cold weather is staying around, another winter sports season has passed into history. The boys must now dig out their books and wait for the next call—spring sports!

Looking back, it has been a good season for Arlington fans. We have many local products doing things in a big way at other schools.

Probably the best thing we can recall is, all the way from Princeton down in Tigerville, Lloyl K. Weidinger, coach of Princeton's hockey team, chooses Arlington's own Art Lane for first string wing on his all-time made up of players from Harvard, Yale and Princeton. These three colleges constitute the famous "Big Three" of the athletic world.

Although Art started the season on the defense, he ended right wing on the orange and black all-sophomore line.

This was due to his great scoring ability, and it seems as though he fitted right into things, because this year was the first since 1926 that a Princeton hockey team has beaten Yale.

From the same state comes the news of the National Women's Championships held there last Saturday. For the second consecutive year the Medford Girls' Club won the National 440-yard relay title. Helen McCarty, daughter of Arlington's High track mentor, ran the third leg for the Medford club in its championship race.

This is the second year in a row for this young Arlington Miss as a member of the National 440-yard relay champs. Last year the same team entered the race, with the same good results.

TWO IMPORTANT REPORTS

Resumes of two reports of vital interest to Arlington citizens are to be found in this issue of the Advocate. They are those of the Finance Committee and of the Committee to Investigate the School System with Particular Reference to Cost of Operation.

The reports have much in common. Both give evidence of hard work—more, of careful and intelligent work. Both have as their aim economy, the discovery of ways by which the Arlington tax-payer may be relieved of the burden that is already so heavy that another straw, say some, would break his back.

In its effort to discover such economies the School Investigation Committee has compared Arlington school expenses with those of twelve other towns while the Finance Committee has, as one department member expressed it, "gone through every budget with a fine toothed comb", to eliminate expense, wherever possible.

The Investigation Committee has offered no statistics as to the attendance at its meetings, but the report itself is sufficient evidence that all three of its members gave much time to results so concisely stated must have been preceded by concentrated study.

As for the Finance Committee, its chairman states that the attendance at all meetings of the committee has been one hundred per cent with the exception of two, and in these two cases the attendance was thirteen out of a total of fourteen membership.

THE TAX RATE AND THE DEPRESSION

This is a particularly difficult year in which to reduce the tax rate, as well as a year in which such a reduction seems a necessity. The depression, which is at the base of so many of our troubles, is a partial cause both of the difficulty and the necessity.

In spite of the fact that the committee recommended not one single street, the rate has climbed above the hoped-for twenty-eight dollars on a sixty-three million valuation. The thirty dollars and sixty-seven cents, estimated on a sixty million dollar valuation would be twenty-nine dollars and twenty-one cents, on the higher valuation.

Evidently, in estimating on the lower valuation, the Committee is taking into consideration the fact that real estate, as well as other values have fallen, and, possibly, the rumor that the assessors intend in their valuations to follow this downward trend. Should the assessors surprise this Finance Committee as they did last year's by finding the values greater than had been expected, the tax-payers would be pleasantly surprised by a rate lower than that estimated.

The depression has played its part in more than one item. It made necessary the January and March town meetings which, in spite of the Finance Committee's careful editing, increased the total appropriation by $41,523.86.

The state and county requirements and the overlay are the same as they were last year, $318,000. This item is large, for the state, also, has been, and is, relieving unemployment conditions, and the town must pay its share of this as well as of the maintenance of a new hospital and a new house of correction.

In the estimated receipts again may be seen the hand of the villain. This year the expectation from the income tax is placed at $184,000. Last year it was $200,000. The corporation and bank tax is $7,500 less, in expectation, this year; the town departments, $8,000. An expected increase of $4,000 in the motor excise tax and of $6,000 in the water receipts, however, bring the total loss on estimated receipts down to $21,500.

Last November when unemployment conditions forced the appropriation of $47,200, it was pointed out that this did not affect the 1931 tax rate, as it was taken from unexpended balances. It will, however, affect the 1932 tax rate—we cannot eat our cake and have it too. Where, in 1931, the Finance Committee report showed under "Free Cash, General", the comfortable sum of $135,340.18, this year that item is not even mentioned. The water surplus is $8,212.55 lower and the transfers $547.19 less.

Another item that reduced the amount that it was necessary to raise by taxation last year, in spite of the appropriations made for schools and streets, is the $360,000 whose borrowing the committee advised. This year the committee is advising the town not to borrow any money. In taking this stand it has been influenced by the large interest bill, about $110,000 that the town is already paying. Better not borrow money, they say, and use the interest we save to buy what we need.

Though, in spite of careful economy, the estimated tax rate is only eighty-three cents lower than the actual rate of last year, the Town Meeting members, if they follow the advice, almost unanimously, of the Finance Committee, can feel that they are placing the town finances on a sound basis, buying only what is necessary and paying cash.

ECONOMY IN SUPERVISION

It is natural that in seeking to reduce the expenses of the school system the Investigation Committee should look for the most substantial reduction in the largest single item of expenses—the instructional. This reduction, it is suggested, can be made by increasing the average number of pupils taught by each teacher from twenty-four to twenty-seven and four tenths. The saving, it is estimated, would be more than fifty thousand dollars.

This year, if the recommendations of the Finance Committee are followed, there will be a saving of $19,575 in this item, brought about, it seems probable, by an increase in the number of pupils per teacher.

In most cases it is no hardship to teach twenty-eight or even thirty pupils, though the four-tenths of a child might give more trouble. The distribution of the school population might sometimes make such division difficult. However, if the town follows the suggested plan of adding to old units rather than building new ones, "even though some pupils might be required to walk a little longer distance"—how far did our fathers walk to the little red schoolhouse?—rooms of thirty pupils each will be practicable, and consequently, the saving will be made.

Another economy in instructional service has been suggested by Arlington citizens interested in an efficient school system. Reduce, say they, the number of supervisors. They believe that at present the teachers in our schools are over supervised. While, in some subjects, such, for instance, as music and drawing, aptitudes for which are special gifts, supervisors are necessary, in others, they are far from essential.

TOWN TOPICS

—The fire department responded Sunday morning, at 1:40, for a fire in a car in the garage of M. Nickson, 14 Fessenden road.

—Miss Elizabeth Lombard of Jackson street was in charge of the third of the series of the Redcliffe departmental tests which was held at Agassiz House Tuesday afternoon. Miss Lombard is a member of the junior class.

Here and There

The Town Meeting Tuesday would have disposed of all the business before it within ten minutes if Harold L. Frost had not asked an interesting question. He wanted to know whether or not the town had any check upon the activities of the County Commissioners in spending money; the $117,223.86 we have just appropriated as our share of the cost of the Middlesex County Tuberculosis Hospital, for instance.

As Mr. Frost did not ask his question until the article concerning the hospital had gone under the hammer, he was declared out of order after some discussion, but his point is well taken, just the same.

The County Commissioners make up their budget which is submitted to the Ways and Means Committee of the State Legislature for consideration. Then the budget is voted upon by the Legislature itself, and finally Arlington is requested to dig down and produce her allotment.

The only check we have on the voting of money is the presence of our representative in the Legislature and of course the money is spent under the direction of the County Commissioners. Whether the check seems adequate enough or not, we cannot scream "taxation without representation," and refuse to pay the assessment. Wonder what would happen if we did refuse to pay sometime? We ought to try it and see.

Moderator Barry does not make any mistakes but he would have made one Tuesday night if he had not been brought up by William E. Taylor. He was well into the preliminaries before he was reminded that the new town meeting members had not yet been sworn in. He set out immediately to repair the omission, of course, but there is another nice point. What would have happened had the meeting had been adjourned before anyone remembered that the members had not been sworn in?

William O. Hauser was present to act his new role of chairman of the Board of Selectmen. Hollis M. Gott took his seat back among the town meeting members. It was the first time he has not had a place down front in six years. To make the picture more complete Leonard Collins should have been sitting in Mr. Gott's former position, but he did not seem to be in the hall at all. For one night, at least, no one was able to fill the defeated candidate's shoes.

Ernest R. Washburn holds the distinction of being elected to office by the largest majority of any enjoyed by any candidate in the recent election. He polled eight votes to one for any of his opponents. Under the heading of town meeting members to be elected for two years to fill a vacancy there was only a blank, and Mr. Washburn's name was written in eight times. Several other candidates received one vote apiece, but none could approach Washburn's voting strength.

Incidentally, in printing the ballots, that blank in precinct ten nearly gave our pressman heart failure. He had completed the run before he noticed the blank space, and when he did his hair nearly stood on end. Jobs are hard to get these days. But it turned out all right, for Mr. Washburn filled the gap very nicely.

We made one error that we know of in tabulating the result of the election last week. In the case of Michael J. Duggan, who opposed Frank W. Wunderlich in the contest for Park Commissioner, the items of his precinct vote were all right, but we made a mistake in addition and gave him one hundred too little. Not that it makes much difference, but we would not wish to belittle the gentleman.

Hollis M. Gott, ex-chairman of the Board of Selectmen, sees great things in store for Arlington Centre in the future. As he points it, the B. & M. line tracks will be electrified for rapid transit. There will be a station in the rear of where Wyman's restaurant is now located. Nearby a great parking garage will be erected. So people will drive their machines to Arlington Centre, park their cars in the garage and proceed to Boston on the rapid transit. On their way out, they will stop in the Centre to do their shopping, and then be on their way.

The proposition sounds pretty good. If we could only be sure that the dream would come true before old age overtakes us we would be squinting around for options in the vicinity of the properties mentioned. That is, we would if we had any money.

SOPHISTICATED ONLOOKER.

THAT SCARLET FEVER
"EPIDEMIC"

March 1, 1932

To the Editor of the Arlington Advocate.

Dear Sir:—
In view of a recent criticism of the health program of the Arlington Schools, the sub-committee on Health met on February 12, to review the figures concerning the scarlet fever "epidemic" which is said to have continued for three consecutive years among the children of the Parmenter School. The records show that there were seven cases in 1929, seventeen in 1930, and six in 1931. This is not considered an epidemic by health authorities.

During the month of December 1930, ten cases were reported in the Parmenter School. This was noted by the School Committee immediately, and action was taken at the December meeting. The building was thoroughly cleaned during the Christmas vacation by the order of the School Committee, with the advice of the local Board of Health.

After vacation a decided decrease in the number of cases was shown, only one case being reported in January 1931.

On January 7th, a petition from parents in the Parmenter School district was filed with the local Board of Health, requesting immediate action.

On January 9th, the "Arlington Advocate" published a letter stating the views of the State Board on control measures for scarlet fever, substantiating the action already taken by the School Committee, namely—that daily examinations of all pupils be made by doctors and nurses and that children with suspicious symptoms be excluded from school temporarily; also that the buildings be kept in a sanitary condition at all times. This procedure had already been followed in the Parmenter School as it has been in all the Arlington Public Schools at all times.

On February 17th, a second petition was filed, although only one new case had been reported in the Parmenter School in January. This petition resulted in a hearing in the Town Hall, where representatives from the Board of Health and a group of parents appeared. The State Board recommended that no further action was necessary as approved methods were already a regular practice of the School Medical Inspection Department.

Very truly yours,
The Arlington School Committee.

ARLINGTON

spent

for YOU

Last Year!

Spent it in better streets, better civic improvements, better schools, better homes, better places of business — better everything than any previous generation ever enjoyed.

Summing it up — it presents the big difference between the home-spent dollar and the dollar spent elsewhere.

The dollar spent in Arlington today keeps on working here in Arlington — eventually working its way back to you — in profits — in wages — in improvements — in any one of a hundred different ways. But how about the dollar you spend away from Arlington? It purchases no more than it would at home — and it ceases forever as an active factor in your greater comfort and well-being.

Every dollar spent in Arlington is a co-operative dollar. Every dollar spent out of Arlington is a disinterested dollar.

Give this thought the serious consideration it deserves. Support people who support you. Be loyal to those who are loyal to you.

TOWER MOTHERS' CLUB ORGANIZED AT HEIGHTS

Last Monday at the home of Mrs. H. A. Smith, 23 Hawthorne road, a new club was formed under the name of "Tower Mothers' Club of Arlington Heights." The purpose of the club is to get the mothers of the Heights district together for discussions about the care and education of children.

There were sixteen members present at the first meeting but it is hoped that more mothers of the Heights will take an interest in this new club. The meetings will be held the second and fourth Mondays of the month. The programs will include open discussions and speeches given by members of the club, as well as speakers from outside who specialize on lectures for mothers.

The officers elected at the first meeting were Mrs. Earl Bolton, President; Mrs. Baxter Robertson, Vice-President; Mrs. Frank Robbins, Secretary; and Mrs. H. A. Smith, Treasurer. Any of these officers will be glad to give further information to anyone who is interested.

FIFTEEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL FAILS TO REACH SCHOOL

Teletype messages were sent out yesterday morning, on account of the unexplained disappearance of Georgianna M. MacGilvray from the home of Robert Irwin, 22 Marathon street. She is but 15 years old and left the home at about 7:30 o'clock Tuesday morning to attend high school. She is described as five feet, nine inches tall, weight, 130 lbs., blue eyes and light hair. She wore a light blue sweater and a light brown short coat. It is thought that she went off with another girl of her own age.

things with which we start. In line with his speech Mr. Dempsey mentioned Helen Keller as a product of fine educational processes. Continuing, Mr. Dempsey showed how we can devote the power that we gain through education to drastic purposes, or we can in a constructive way build up an individual life that will grow richer and finer and greater to the end.

Joseph J. Bevin, Chairman of the Evening School Committee, had charge of the awarding of the Evening School certificates and the presentation of the diplomas. Certificates were awarded to 268 students. Mr. Bevin pointed out that, although the graduating class consisted of only three members, there were some schools who could not boast of that number. He said, "It matters not where you are today, but where you are going."

Mr. Franklin P. Hawkes, President of the Arlington Women's Club, presented awards to those members of the Americanization Class who had perfect attendance in their classes. The awards were given as a symbol of the friendly feeling of the Women's Club toward this class. Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Terjelian were presented with a painting of the Rheims Cathedral. Carmine Massimilla and B. Antonio Vellone were given fountain pens. Eric Florin, who took the part of Alexander Hamilton in the play, was presented with a book entitled "The Conqueror" by Gertrude Atherton.

Mrs. Hawkes left a very pleasing thought with the audience, "If you cannot be a sun, be a star; but be the very best kind of a star that you possibly can. If you cannot be the captain, be the crew; and whatever position you hold in the crew do your very best. In other words, be the best of whatever you are."

The program closed with an exit march by the High School Orchestra.

MR. AND MRS. McLEAN OPERATE TAVERN AT KENNEBUNK

Of interest to friends here was the article in the Sunday Post recently announcing the management of The Tavern at Kennebunk, Maine, by Frank W. McLean of Boston and 125 Pleasant street, Arlington. The inn is an up-to-date hostelry and various changes and improvements in operation have already been put into effect.

Mr. McLean and Mrs. McLean, who will be associated with her husband in the conduct of "the inn you always hoped to find," are most enthusiastic over the prospects for success in their venture. Mr. and Mrs. McLean, before coming to Arlington, were long time residents of Winchester and many friends pleasantly remember Stony Brook Lodge, operated by them at one time at Ogunquit. The Tavern is now open and the special winter rates are offered.

Folk Dancing promises to be a popular activity among the Girl Scouts in Arlington. April tenth is the date set for the Girl Scouts' Own Service in the Town Hall. More detailed information will be given under the Girl Scout News later. There will be a meeting of the committee at Headquarters on Tuesday, March 22, at 6:00. No further notice of this meeting will be sent.

Baptist Woman's Union Has Annual Luncheon

The annual luncheon of the Woman's Union of the First Baptist Church was held on Monday. Wells, Chairman of the Social Committee and a capable committee, representing each of the eight groups of the Union.

The President, Mrs. L. E. A. Smith, greeted the members and guests and introduced three speakers, each of whom brought a brief message: Mrs. Nathan E. Wood, vice-president of the W. A. B. F. M. S.; Mrs. Wm. N. Hartshorn of Cambridge, president of the Massachusetts Woman's Baptist Missionary Society, and Mrs. Irad B. Hardy of Waltham, prayer leader for Massachusetts.

Following a brief business meeting and announcements, the program of the afternoon was introduced by Mrs. Arthur E. Gilmour. Easter carols were sung by a group of members under the direction of Mrs. Richard Low. "Faith of Our Fathers," a history of sixty years of the Woman's Baptist Missionary Society, was given. A Literature Skit entitled "Mrs. Rip Van Winkle" was most interestingly presented by Mrs. Irad B. Hardy and members of the Union.

Musical Service Good Friday Night

On Good Friday evening, March 25th, the four Centre churches—the First Baptist, the Universalist, the First Parish and the Orthodox Congregational church—will unite in a special musical service to be held at the First Baptist church. At that time about thirty singers from the various choirs will present "The Crucifix" by Sir John Stainer. This is one of the most beautiful and impressive of all musical compositions for Passion Day. The time of the service will be 7:45. It will be a very fitting observance by combined churches on a great day in the church year.

Dowell P. MacNeill, organist of the First Parish church, will be in charge of the rendition. The four pastors—Rev. Grady D. Feagan, Rev. Rubens Rea Hadley, Rev. John Nicol Marks and Rev. Lawrence L. Barber—will participate in the other worship features of the service.

Production Accounting Important for Small Business

Modern workroom practice leads to following the makeshift methods of a self-developed institution. Subjects today to a rigorous system of auditing and the production sheet methods of a closely scrutinized manufacturing plant. In fact, dollar for dollar, on manufacturing expenditure it is as important that workroom costs possess the element of exact financing as would be the case with the production of any other merchandise that is sold on a close price basis.

MAKE SCRAPBOOKS OF INTERESTING TOWN EVENTS

One of the duties of the members of the Robbins Library staff is to clip accounts of interesting Arlington events and paste them into scrapbooks. Several pages are left at the back of the book for the index. The first book is that of 1930, as it was the Tercentenary Celebration which made the librarian, Mrs. Lucinda Spofford, believe that there should be such an indexed record which would make easy reference to events which might prove of historic interest in the future. Mrs. Spofford is also having scrapbooks of everything that has been published with reference to the library.

LANE ASSISTS IN GOAL THAT TIES ICE SCORE

Arlington Captain and Hicks in Line Against Montreal.

The Greater Boston Interscholastic hockey stars staged one of the gamest fights ever witnessed by the some 6000 school fans who went to the Boston Garden last Saturday afternoon, and succeeded in holding the strong Montreal Catholic High sextet to a four-all tie.

In the overtime session, with the local stars trailing by a point, it was Captain Phil Lane of Arlington High who picked the puck up in the Montreal zone and ragged through three Canadian players, then succeeded in slipping a pass to the ever-ready Paul Gihard of Melrose, who had no trouble in slapping home the equalizer. It was the biggest goal of the day, and the excited fans nearly tore the place apart as the red light blinked in recognition of the tally.

This wasn't the only instance where the Arlington crowd had a chance to cheer. On the second line, Trai Hicks played left wing while Phil Lane flanked the other wing, teaming up with Dick Johnson, the little colored flash from Rindge, who played the pivot. It was a good line, and the three boys gave a fine account of themselves.

The Canadians had a goal of professional calibre in Sequin, a seventeen-year-old lad, who took care of the many hard Boston shots like a real veteran. Captain Taucher.

Election Outcome Unchanged by Recount

Though Saturday's recount of the votes cast for Selectmen on Monday reduced Leonard Collins' plurality over Hollis M. Gott from 151 to 142, it did not affect the outcome. On the first vote, Mr. Collins received 6044 votes, and on the recount 6043. Mr. Gott, on the first, had 5893, and on the second 5901. Most of the mistakes were in counting Mr. Gott's votes as blanks.

BUSINESS MEN ANTICIPATE SPRING STIMULATION

The weather this week has not been prophetic but, nevertheless, the next issue of the Advocate is the first one of the spring of 1932. Already the business men and craftsmen of the town are looking forward to the annual spring stimulation. Among those who may expect to receive his share of the season's business is Robert Onanian of 264 Massachusetts avenue, who has been established here for some time in the upholstery business.

He has already made some fortunate contracts which have brought him work for satisfied customers. He specializes in repairing and making upholstered furniture to order and in custom made draperies and slip covers. He carries a full line of samples from which to choose. There is, of course, no charge for estimates. Call Arlington 1273.

A St. Patrick's party followed the meeting of Social Circle of Calvary M. E. church which was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles W. Ross, 39 Magnolia street. Shamrocks and green candles were included in the effective decorations.

The development of highly stable vacuum tube oscillator circuits has made it possible for laboratories to make electrical and electromechanical systems which have practically constant frequency, angular velocity, or rotational period. For the measurement of these quantities, therefore, many of the devices used for determining frequency are useful. The devices described in this section are asynchronous motor-driven clock mechanisms, with the necessary auxiliary for adapting them to specific problems.

For example, a synchronous motor-driven clock may be used as a source of precisely determined time intervals when driven by a standard-frequency oscillator and, conversely, it may be used for determining frequency when compared with a standard time interval.

MEGATONY CHAPTER MEETS AT HOME OF MRS. EBERHARDT

Mrs. Philip Eberhardt of Gray street was hostess at her home to Megatony Chapter, D. A. R., last Friday. The regent, Mrs. Eugenie R. Vinal, presided. Following the usual opening exercises, led by the chaplain, Mrs. Joseph W. Wyman, the secretary's report was read and approved.

There were short reports by Mrs. Rufus Blake and Mrs. Herbert Teel. Mrs. Smith, the secretary, read a letter of appreciation from Franklin P. Shumway, president of Hillelde School, also one from the resident of Springfield International College and Springfield C. W. MacGowan. On the reading of a letter from the George Washington Memorial Committee, the Chapter in common with the town organizations took up a generous collection for the memorial community tree, to be planted in Arlington Centre. A framed copy of the correct use of the Flag was presented to the Robbins Memorial Library by the Chapter.

Mrs. Neal Moynahan of Agn Adams Tufts Chapter was introduced by the regent, and spoke earnestly and entertainingly on "Ellis Island." She showed pictures of the buildings and explained the work done there, told of the improvement in accommodations, methods and care in the last ten or twelve years. She gave the story of the young Armenian immigrant, a linguist who, realizing the difficulties of understanding on both sides remained as an interpreter. Mrs. Moynahan spoke of the detention station at East Boston, of Mrs. Tillinghast and her fine work, and the need there of materials and worsteds.

The meeting adjourned and the members were entertained by the hospitality committee, with refreshments and coffee. At the dinner of goodwill and appreciation given Tuesday evening, Megatony Chapter was represented by a large number.

The eighteen characters who take part are drawn from the Sunday School. There is a musical background, a part of which will be interpreted by the pageant choir. Leon K. Bigrass is assisting Mrs. Brooks with the musical program.

The final report of the Committee to Investigate the School System of Arlington with Particular Reference to the Cost of Operation, is being distributed this week to the Town Meeting members at their precinct meetings. The committee, whose appointment was authorized by vote of the annual Town meeting in 1930, consisted of Wilson D. Clark, Jr., Charles A. Alden and Ernest W. Davis. Before the committee began its work, Mr. Clark was forced to resign and Arthur O. Yeames was appointed in his place. Mr. Yeames is chairman.

The committee made a preliminary report to last year's annual Town Meeting, in which it was promised that any recommendations made in the final report would be based upon facts.

In this final report it is pointed out that the committee has approached the study of schools entirely from the business side of costs. To do this, comparative data were secured from other cities and towns with approximately the same school population or with recognized high standards of public school education. Those chosen were Belmont, Brookline, Framingham, Medford, Melrose, Newton, Norwood, Somerville, Waltham, Watertown, Weymouth and Winchester.

Reductions Possible

At the conclusion of its study the committee was unanimous in the belief that reductions can be made in the cost of operating the Arlington school system without impairing the efficiency of the school department or decreasing the scope of the curriculum. The pupil capacity of the buildings, it is also concluded, is such as to lend itself to a high degree of efficiency in operation. They advise that in planning increased school accommodation in the future consideration be given to the building of additions to such present buildings as are adapted to enlargement, before the erection of new units, as this would lead to a decreased expense of operation.

Comparison with other towns revealed the fact that on a "cost per pupil" basis, the cost in Arlington over a six-year period has increased more rapidly than the average of the towns considered and that it is exceeded only by Brookline and Newton. The study did not show, however, that the junior high system is a reason for the high cost. In Arlington the cost per pupil for general control is $3.86. This is exceeded only by Winchester and is $1.81 greater than the lowest cost—Weymouth, and $91 higher than the average. Reduction of this item to the average would cut the total appropriation for this item, approximately $5,600.

Number of Pupils Per Teacher Should be Increased

For salaries of principals, teachers and supervisors, the cost is $79.65, which is $5.42 above the average. Examination showed, however, that the maximum for supervisors, men teachers and all Junior High teachers, is not out of line with those paid in the other communities, and that the salaries of women teachers in elementary schools and of men teachers in the High School are somewhat lower than the average. The average number of pupils per teacher in Arlington is only 24; the average for their rugged and fast-skating left wing, packed a shot as hard as a rifle shot, and gave the three Boston goalies more trouble than the rest of his men combined. He shot only one goal, but it was not his fault.

PHIL LANE ASSISTS IN GOAL THAT TIES SCORE

A Slow Start
The game started slowly as both teams were feeling each other out. Then Gubord, Melrose ace, went down alone, wove through the entire team and caught Sequin on a low drive that brought the red light on. This peppered things up, and at the half-way mark of the period, Bill Hart, visitors' defense star, whacked the puck past Egan, of Medford, after a long scrimmage at the Boston net.

Before the stanza ended, the Montreal club took the lead on a snappy goal, that materialized when Phil Cadrin slipped the disc over to Captain Taucher on the left, who rifled it past the bewildered Egan for a clean goal.

The second period didn't yield a score, but it did have plenty of thrills. In the third phase, George Ford, the Belmont idol, got as far as center ice on an attempted solo. Here, Jerry O'Neill, one of the Melrose boys, took the puck over to the right lane. He continued down around the net, and passed out to Ford, who had planked himself in front of the Montreal drapes. The pass was accurate, and the Belmont boy had little trouble in tying up the score.

The Tie Broken
The invaders weren't satisfied at being tied, and before long, Luc La-rochelle stuck the rebound of Stan Neville's hard shot past Pounder for a third Montreal goal. In less than three minutes after this, Nat Scott, who had Newton raged the puck down the ice and passed to O'Neill, who put the Boston team on even terms for the third time.

When the teams went into the overtime, Red Pounder, the Belmont captain, stayed in the Boston nets, and he seemed to be the right man. He kept the Canadian shots under control until Howie Neville sizzled a shot that glanced off Red's head and into the nets for a fourth Canadian tally.

When the teams reached the eight minute mark of the session, Lane and Gubord teamed up for the big equalizer, and both coaches were content to let the tie stand. The summary:

INTER-SCHOOL ALL-STAR: Gubord, Lane, Kelly, r.w. Ford, Johnson, Chipman, c. O'Neill, H. Peckham, l.w. Sostille, Foley, rd. Dismore, ld. Spadofora, H. Broughton, Egan, Skilling, Pounder, g.

WILL BORROW MONEY FOR HOSPITAL THROUGH COUNTY

row money as cheaply as Middlesex County.
Therefore, it was voted, upon recommendation of the Finance Committee, that the town appropriate $17,223.86 for the partial payment of the total assessment of $117,223.86, already made for the town's proportion of the cost of the construction and equipment of the hospital and that said sum be raised by general tax and expended under the direction of the Board of Selectmen. The balance, $100,000, is to be funded through the County and is to be repaid in substantially equal instalments during the next ten years.

INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE MAKES ITS FINAL REPORT

the group is 27.4, while such places as Framingham, Medford, Melrose, Somerville, Watertown, Weymouth have from 29 to 32. Raising the number of pupils per teacher from 24 to 27.4 would save the town over $50,000 per year.

Another item where saving seems possible is that of text-books. Here reduction to the average would save about $2,600. The cost of janitor service and fuel is eighty cents above the average and reduction would save about $5,000. In repairs, reduction to the average would mean a saving of $15,000, and in libraries, $11,000.

For health Arlington spends $1.59 per pupil, which is twelve cents less than the average, but more than is spent by six of the other towns. In miscellaneous expenses Arlington is high again. The difference between what Arlington pays and the average means a difference of $14,000 in budget expenses.

Possible Savings $93,300
In total per pupil cost, Arlington with $112.44 is third from the top. Brookline, where the cost is highest, pays $150.10 and Framingham, where it is lowest, $84.83. The average is $103.29.

The savings indicated by the committee as possible would total $93,300.
The recommendation of the Finance Committee for the school budget this year is $717,643.00, which is $26,256 less than last year's budget. The reductions are in the following items: general control, $4,427; instructional service, $19,575; auxiliary agencies and other activities, $220; capital outlay, $5,895; expenses outside Commonwealth, $200. The operation budget is $1,210 higher than in 1931 and maintenance, $2,411 higher, while vocational training remains the same—$9,600.
